

10 Minute Challenges - Summer 2 - Week 5 - 28/06/24

	Challenge:
	The children have been working their socks off in recent weeks with end of year assessments, Sports Day and are now learning the dances and songs for our summer performance. To make sure we don't burn out by the end of the year I've decided to reduce the 10-minute-challenges. I'd like us to carry on practicing TT Rockstars weekly; we will continue our weekly test and celebrating the Rockstar of the week in Celebrations Assembly. We all need to be continue reading each evening, either the book the children bring home from their phonics group / library book or the Guided Reading book. We should also be practicing our spellings nightly.
Task 1	Over the next few weeks I'll be setting a song from our performance for the children to practice. Versions of the song can also be found on YouTube if you'd like the music. Staggering Stanley! Staggering Stanley! Your feet are out of step and out of tune. A horrifying hurricane, A terrible typhoon, With all the grace and glamour Of a big baboon! Staggering Stanley! Staggering Stanley! Your clumsiness is stirring up a stew! You're staggering us, A staggering fuss Like this we never knew. Staggering Stanley, you're through!

Our show & tell this ½ term will aim to embed the knowledge from our Summer 1 topic focusing on Jim and the Beanstalk.

In the fifth week of our topic we began learning about our second focus artist for the term Matthew Cusick. Matthew is an American artist but isn't as well known as some of the artists / designers we've learnt about already this year.

Matthew Cusick enjoys creating his own worlds using chopped up maps. He focuses on American popular culture / his own interests so there's no real theme like other artists we've studied.

This week, can you create a collage of your own? It can be of absolutely anything... whatever you're interested in! Your collage can use magazines, old maps, crisp packets (like we have in the past), leaves etc.

Bring in your artwork or take a photo and send to office@orchardprimary.org.uk for Friday's show & tell.
